Increase in Dominion Revenue Grows || Alix, Alta., Sees Belle Elmore, 'Tis Said HAMMOND, IND., AND ALIX ALTA. CLAIM THAT BELLE ELMORE LIVES

Reports From Each of These Places Say That She Has Been in Their Towns—Alix Greatly Excited

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Scarcely for Belle Elmore for whose murder Dr. Harvey Crippen is sentenced to be hanged November 23, and who was reported to be alive and to having been in Chicago, a report today from Hammond, Ind., that a mysterious note left in the Virginia Hotel here, mysterious telephone calls and the appearance recently in Hammond of a woman who closely resembled Belle Elmore, have spurred the police to extraordinary efforts to locate the single woman.

Story a "Frame-up"

Meantime, however, a report gained currency among sporting men that authorities in Chicago were being alive and in Chicago was a "frame-up" for theatrical purposes. The Chicagoan, Robert H. Cantwell and Jack Curley, the wrestling promoter, were mentioned.

ed in connection with the alleged scheme, which is said to be nothing more than an impersonation by an English actress.

Both men are interested. Both these men admitted being interested with E. T. Tobin, an attorney in Philadelphia, in the production of Belle Elmore.

Cantwell said he believed Tobin would actually produce Belle Elmore and save the life of Dr. Crippen.

Alix, Alberta. A new arrival in town of the gentler sex, has caused a great deal of excitement in that it is reported she is none other than Belle Elmore, the supposedly murdered wife of Crippen who is now under sentence to hang on November 23rd for the crime.

"She registered at the hotel under the name of Cassin, and nothing was said about her," but for some guests mentioning the Crippen affair in her presence, whereupon she immediately left.

Asked if she knew anything of the case she denied all knowledge, but when told that Crippen was to be hanged she swooned again.

The police are watching her and waiting until she can be identified. Little is known about her, except that she arrived on the afternoon train from Calgary. The Calgary Star explains her ignorance of the world famous case.

Situation at Nome

Seattle, Nov. 12.—Nearly 2000 more people left Nome today entered the Bering Sea city during the navigation season just closed, according to figures compiled by the United States Customs officers there and received here yesterday. The report shows that 20 vessels entered the northern port, taking in 2,454 passengers and bringing out 2,660. The gold shipped out during the five months of open navigation amounted to $3,467,685.41.

HOW CANADIAN PEOPLE ARE BLEED

Grain-Growers Say Consumers pay 1,200 Millions Yearly for Protective Tariff

Everybody Satisfied Now, They Say—Must Be Careful in Dickering

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—Officials of the Grain Growers' Association here declare that Senator Melvin Jones is badly advised in trying to bolster up his argument for a tariff on implements by insisting on the necessity to produce revenues. They point out that the net return to the Dominion treasury from the duty on implements is about $12,000,000 per annum, while the increased amount paid by farmers to manufacturers on account of that duty is $2,500,000. Implement duties therefore net revenue producing. To apply Senator Jones' own argument, the grain growers say that the customs revenue of $6,000,000 per annum that Mr. Logan was not successful as an inspector and did not hold their respect. "Yesterday afternoon," the "defence" started.

Mr. Logan denied the charges made in their denials, and claimed that the Edmonton City Dairy Company had placed obstacles in his path rather than assisted him, and had endeavored to intimidate him. On one occasion he asserted that when Mr. Prevey was asked for a list of the dairymen supplying them with milk the reply was "that is for the health department to find out." Mr. Logan also presented as evidence a list of names of dairymen which he claimed was an exact copy of a list placed recently on one of the doors of the company's plant. Under the heading of "list of dairymen to supply milk to the Edmonton City Dairy Company," some of whom were unlicensed, he said, while following there was another list, entitled, "dairies to supply milk to Strathcona only." The milk inspector asserted that heretofore he had been inspecting the dairies contained in the latter list, not knowing that they supplied to Strathcona only, the city dairy people giving him no information to that effect. Mr. Logan also stated that an interview which he gave to the Capital some time ago about the producers part in the rise in the price of milk, caused considerable dissension among the dairymen, but he explained that the reporter asked him his opinion, and that he gave him the true facts. Mayor Lee saw no reason why Mr. Logan shouldn't have done so.

DR. WHITEHEAD VS. SHORT

Interchanges Between Health Officer and Counsel for the Dairy Company

JUDGMENT RESERVED

"If Given Enough Rope Will Hang Himself," Says Witness of Dairy Inspector

The final hearing by the city commissioners of the charges laid at the door of Dairy Inspector Andrew Logan by Manager Trevey of the Edmonton City Dairy Company, yesterday afternoon was characterized by hot interchanges of accusation and reply, which at times became very amusing, even the gentlemen sitting in judgment at times being forced to smile. Dr. Whitehead and Mr. Logan sat on one side of the table while Mr. Prevey and his counsel, Mr. William Short, K.C., sat on the other, and from start to finish they went at each other, at one time the whole four being on their feet. The commissioners have reserved judgment.

LACK OF GRAVEL DELAYS WORK ON BIG C.P.R. BRIDGE

EARLY FORMATION OF ICE ALSO HOLDS UP CONSTRUCTION OF COFFER DAM, BUT PROGRESS IS BEING MADE.

The lack of gravel is retarding work considerably on the high level bridge, but otherwise rapid progress is being made in the construction of the dam and piers. Work has been started on the river piers, the construction of the coffer dam having commenced. Considerable difficulty is experienced in that regard however, owing to the jamming and for the last day or two

COURT GRAVITY UPSET

When Witness Told Lawyer He Ought to Know What a Flirt Was

When a learned lawyer, in reply to a question of his as to what a "flirt" was received the answer: "No, ought to know," the gravity of the Supreme court was seriously disturbed yesterday afternoon.

The witness was Mrs. Vanderhooven who is suing her husband for alimony and the lawyer H. H. Robinson, who appeared for the defendant. The husband, according to the woman's evidence, besides other forms of treatment, called her names and these names were one of her chief grievances against him.

The woman's married life, according to her story, is one long story of cruelty and neglect. Married a Belgian in 1891 she lived with her husband there until 1899 when he emigrated to Canada. Thirteen months afterwards she sold everything and joined him at independence, Alx, afterwards coming to Saint-Pierre, Riviere Que Barre and Macmillan. Of late she says her husband has become very ill-tempered towards her. Naturally he did everything possible to prevent her going to church which she only managed to do when he was away. Besides this, he failed to support her properly and she and the children were forced to live on food unfit for human consumption. It was at this time that her husband for defence was somewhat slack about at her reply.

Soccer Scores SAYER SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Selkirk Man is Accused of Having Caused the Death of a Young Girl

Selkirk, Man., Nov. 12.—Donald Sayer, charged with having caused the death of Rachel Sacher, was committed for trial after a preliminary investigation before the Magistrate here today. He was released on bail of $500.

The evidence of coroner Dr. Grosse went to show that the death of the girl had been brought about under circumstances other than through violence or the part of Sayer, her mother and brother and the time the latter reached the spot near the stable the girl was at her last gasp. Sayer was covered with blood and was immediately arrested. The girl was in a delicate condition at the time of the occurrence.

BRICKLAYERS ALONE REFUSE STRIKERS AID

A well-attended meeting of laborers held in the Trades and Labor hall this morning indicates that the decision of the Building Trades to support the bricklayers' strike is no idle threat. Plastering has been done on certain buildings since the strike began and it is here that the contractors will be compelled to suffer.

Carpenters and others are holding themselves in readiness to go out to the contractors to try to force the hands of the plasterers. The bricklayers' employers, however, are not so easily won over and are not considered a serious drawback. The contractors refuse to say anything on the subject, but it is expected that some action will be taken in the near future.

HOW NOW ABOUT MR. CUSHING.

Now that the Waterways commission has handed in its report, there is just one other little matter that should be cleared up without delay.

How about Mr. Cushing.

Certain charges have been made against the senior member for Calgary. The charges have not been repudiated, nor denied, but the member still continues to hold office.

The legislature is in session and he can get a place on the programme at any time to arise and offer his explanation. If he has an explanation it should be easy to make. It would not take him more than a minute to say that the charges were untrue and unfounded. That looks like about the right thing for a man in his position to do.

If Mr. Cushing cannot do that, by what right does he remain in his seat?

THE STRUGGLE IN GREAT BRITAIN

According to the dispatches Great Britain is in the verge of another election struggle, one which will outlive even the last in the intensity of its animosities, which will be a struggle to the death between the landless and the landlords.

When Lloyd George put his famous budget before the house he was inspired by one motive, to make privileged wealth pay the tax.

Lloyd George has tacitly admitted that he had no insuperable objection to the expenditures on naval construction and an immense standing army, what he objects to is that the part of the population which clamors for the army and the navy is the very part which escapes taxation, while the part of the population which cares nothing whether they were defended or not because they have little or nothing to defend, are made to pay practically all the tax.

To raise this tax Lloyd George proceeded on a basis so simple as to be almost fundamental. He levied a tax on increment.

In Great Britain there are immense estates which have passed from generation to generation in the same families, which have become immensely valuable through no effort of the owners, which have not been for sale and which were not purchasable by the natives thereof for the reason that people born on the land never had the money to buy the homes in which they were born even had they had the opportunity. Millions of people in Great Britain were actually trespassers in the land of their birth.

Cities have grown up where forests stood since time passed, and families have lived in luxury for centuries from rents derived from land acquired by their forefathers in ages so long ago as to have been forgotten except by the historians.

As the country increases in population the land increases in value, the same to-day as it has done throughout the centuries.

Lloyd George called for an assessment of all the land in Britain, something that had not been done since the days of William the Norman. He placed on the statutes an enactment to the effect that a portion of the increase in value of all land should hereafter belong to the state.

This was the thing against which privileged wealth in Great Britain fought when they attacked the Liberal government.

As in all cases where such great questions are before the people, an attempt was made to cloud the issue. If people never go wrong where they have an opportunity to make a choice on a fundamental issue. Something must be done to distract attention. The Lords came to the rescue. They threw the budget out. The Asquith government went to the country. They were fighting for the right to compel the Lords to accept the budget. The forces of privileged wealth knew what it meant if the Liberal government won. The brewers, who were severely taxed; the landlords, who saw their ancient privilege of taking from the people a tax on industry about to be swept away; the titled aristocracy who foresaw the time when their social privilege would be gone glimmering, and the owners of livings from the established church, who recognized in the struggle a class war in which their emoluments were endangered, all joined in a fight against the government. A great cry was raised in favor of protection. The German peril was painted in lurid colors. The danger of dispensing with the house of lords and leaving the government of the country in the hands of the demagogues of the house of commons was cried about as something that presaged a terrible calamity. The empire itself was represented as being in danger.

The election was held. The ballots were counted and the government by a coalition with the Irish and the labor party had a majority. They went back into office.

Then an unfortunate thing happened. The king who was a wise and noble man and whose sympathies, so far as he had the privilege of expressing them, undoubtedly made him the greatest comfort of them all, notwithstanding that he was the head of all the aristocrats, died.

In the season of mourning, which followed the battle armour was laid aside and a truce declared, government and opposition went into a conference to endeavor to find a peaceful way out of the difficulty. They found none.

In the meantime, the government has had an opportunity to estimate its strength. By its coalition with the Irish and the labor vote the government has a majority. The labor vote was safe for the budget at all times but the Irish vote demanded a price. Without this vote the government has no working majority, and to grant home rule for Ireland upon pain of defeat for failure to do so was a position which no self respecting government would consent to accept, even though it might be disposed to grant the same without compulsion.

The fact that the Asquith government is preparing for a further election, as evidence that the ministry considers that it has not yet a mandate from the people to dispense with the House of Lords and force forever its Lloyd George policy of increment tax on the landlords whom they have been fighting all along.

In the next election the government will have the advantage that the issue will be better understood, and final triumph is almost a certainty.

SUCH HERESY!

From the Ottawa Free Press.

Why is the vote of thanks?

We've been pondering it over in our minds for quite a while now, and the more thought that is bestowed on it the more it appears that the vote of thanks hasn't any excuse to live.

True, it is a sort of tradition that has stuck to us since we wore knee trousers, or "pants," as we used to say at school, and perhaps it gets back farther than that, but that is long enough for argument's sake.

All of us who have gone to public meetings, has been fortunate enough to hear a learned discourse—because that is a fortunate thing in this commercial age—have been drawn under the spell of the speaker, have followed him point by point, have enjoyed his "bon mots," and occasional oratorical flights, and have listened with rapturous delight at his eloquent peroration, and then comes the anti-climax—the vote of thanks that gives us a jar, even while we're putting on our wraps.

Hank Jones, with surpassing assurance, gets up and starts off with "how delighted we are all," and perhaps elaborates on the address by the speaker of the evening. Then the motion is nervously seconded by Bill Brown, and "passed unanimously." By the time this ceremony is over the pleasant impression left by the speaker is almost entirely effaced.

We say give the conjure to the stereotyped vote of thanks, bury it so far that there will be no resurrection. It should be the duty of the chairman to not only give a few words of introduction—no stock jokes—and also close the meeting with a brief and appropriate expression of the audience's appreciation. After that the National Anthem.

BILLY LAUDER QUITS

Calgary, Nov. 12.—Though Billy Lauder has oft made the statement that he is through with the fighting game, only to come back for another fight, he is now in retirement.

Last time Billy was in Winnipeg he said he had fought his last battle. May be he has, but at the time of the announcement of his retirement he mentioned good-naturedly, and wondered how long it would be before the well-known and popular little Scotchman would be seen crawling through the ropes. Again, however, Billy comes forward and declares he and the ring have parted company. In a letter to Bob Edwards in Winnipeg, Lauder says he has no present intention of returning with the padded mitts if ever again. He says he has heard nothing of a bout with Eddie Marino and that the prospects of such a go would not coax him from retirement.

FOOTBALL RULES

From an American Point of View

The following football rules written by Tom McKee appear in an American exchange.

First—The game is divided into four stanzas of eight verses each. In these verses there are 16 periods, and 32 semi-epochs. Between periods one may smash an opponent's sides or smother his man. Between the semi-epochs it is permitted to make faces and breathe.

Second—Before and after each stanza the opposing captains shall change neckties, the referee shall hug the umpire and the head linesman shall kiss whatever girl they overtake in 10 seconds.

Third—It shall be a foul if any player bite an opposing player for stepping in his face.

Fourth—The ball may be advanced after the permission of a referee, but the umpire is obtained, and if there be objection on the part of the opposing captain, who shall signify such objection by crying, "Fie!" four times.

Fifth—In running with the ball, a player shall not touch a referee with his teeth. Should and give teeth to in this manner shall be removed by the referee, though time shall not be taken out for this purpose.

Sixth—In the choice of goals a toss of a coin shall decide. The umpire shall, for this purpose, a half-dollar from the captain of the opposing team. It will then be a toss up, as to whether either gives his quarter or half-back.

Seventh—No player shall be eligible who is under 9 years or over 20 years of age. The referee shall be a boy of a bona-fide student shall be as follows: He must be able to give 50 fathoms without drawing a breath; wear foolish clothes; have an open face like an udder; know no football when he sees it; and a member of a local high school.

Eighth—It is a foul to kick a player below the hair or above the shoes.

Ninth—A brick or horseshoe concealed in a player's sweater shall be prima facie evidence of an offense, and the opposing team shall be given nine rabs and a cup of tea thereafter.

Tenth—Players giving evidence of having dined during the season will be expelled by the faculty and expelled by the amateur association.

Eleventh—Sweaters, jerseys or jackets that have been greased shall be inspected by the pure food commission. If butter is used they may play. If oleomargarine is used, they shall be sold to the federal grand jury.

Twelfth—A player playing in collusion with doctors, surgeons, undertakers or embalmers, shall be penalized five red neckties, and four bars of purple soap.

Thirteenth—In case of doubt ask the umpire. He don't know.

NEW GRANITE SECRETARY

At the meeting of the Granite Club held last night in the rink, Mr. J. M. Scott was appointed secretary, to succeed Mr. John Dewar. Mr. Dewar was unable to take the office this year, and his resignation was received with regret by the executive.

If Butte Is So Keen About "Honest John" Why Not Interest Him in International

President C. J. Eckstrom has arrived home after a trip east, during the course of which he took in the world's series games at Chicago and Philadelphia.

Mr. Eckstrom says the Cubs were very smart and opponent's sides or smother his man. Between the semi-epochs it is permitted to make faces and breathe.

The president also called at Butte, Helena and Great Falls to sound these cities regarding the International. Great Falls and Helena are unanimous for a compact with the Canadian cities and will refuse to negotiate with any other formation. Mr. Eckstrom thinks Butte will eventually come through in favor of the International league.

Now, the only thing that is keeping Butte on the fence is the fact that Honest J. McCloskey has secured the franchise in the proposed league. It is the feeling of the local fan of W. H. Lucas, deposed president of the North-western League.

McCloskey is the idol of the fans in Butte as he gave them the only winning baseball they ever had. He has a fine personality, a wide acquaintance among the players, and altogether is Mr. Lucas one trump card. It occurs to us that a very fine play on the part of President Eckstrom would be to get McCloskey interested in the International. The Lucas league will not be a go as Helena and Great Falls ignore him entirely.

Mr. Eckstrom would be available. The minute over Mr. McCloskey, the entire International circuit would be completed, as it is shown that while Butte, without McCloskey, is very lukewarm, take the same city and place John J. in charge, and it would be hot as a red-hot iron in the league.

Mr. McCloskey, as a former manager of a major league team, would lend prestige to the new organization and his wide circle of friends among the big league managers, would assure him of some classy players.

At the present rate of growth, Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge will be greatly increased in population by next spring and must have baseball in order that the International may be in shape to start next May. It is absolutely necessary that the organization work be proceeded with at once.

President Eckstrom would call the belated Western Canada league meeting at once, decide who won last year's pennant, and then appoint delegates from Edmonton, Lethbridge and Calgary to confer with the fans in Butte, Helena and Great Falls. As soon as the composition of the league is finally decided upon, the individual cities can organize their clubs, appoint managers who will proceed with the signing-up of the players.

RUGBY EXECUTIVE MEETING

There will be a meeting of the executive of the Edmonton Rugby Club in the Cecil Hotel on Monday at 8.30 for the purpose of closing the business for the current year.

WESTERN CANADA LEAGUE

President Eckstrom is calling a meeting of the Western Canada League managers for Saturday, November 16th, at Lethbridge to wind up last season's tangled end.

CITY HOCKEY
LEAGUE MEETING

It Was Decided That Edmonton and Strathcona Form District of the A. A. H. A.

The meeting of the City Hockey League, held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. was not a representative one, only the Y.M.C.A. and the Bankers having delegates present.

With President J. W. Ward in the chair, an informal discussion ensued and on motion of Pete Purdy it was decided to apply at the meeting of the A.A.H.A. in Red Deer tonight to have Edmonton and Strathcona incorporated in one district, the young team to enter the Provincial semi-finals.

As Messrs. Dobson and Graham of Strathcona, the treasurer and secretary of the A.A.H.A. will be present as delegates for Edmonton district.

Last year the association refused the Calgary and Edmonton City leagues permission to play as a division, consequently the two largest cities in the province did not have teams in the A.A.H.A. This made Edmonton's championship an empty honor, and it is hoped the league authorities will this season see the error of their ways.

In event of a district being formed in Strathcona and Edmonton, the University of Alberta will enter along with the Y.M.C.A. and Bankers. This leaves several vacancies as it is understood, Queens Avenue, J. H. Morris Company, and the Deacons are negotiating their franchises.

In order that the Eskimos, Somerville Hardware Company, the I. C. A. A. N. and other clubs intending to apply for membership can have delegates present, the annual meeting of the City Hockey League will be held on Friday next, in the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock.

This should be a happier season for amateur hockey in Alberta. Calgary will have two strong teams, the Calgary Athletic Club and St. Mary's.

Lacombe, Settle, Red Deer and probably Camrose will comprise the capital district, while Macleod and Lethbridge will have teams in the south. Then there is the Edmonton-Strathcona district and probably one each of Edmonton on the C. N. R. with Lloydminster, Vegreville and other towns in line.

Messrs. McLean and Murphy represented the Bankers last evening while Pete Purdy looked after the Y. M. C. A. interests.

ARGOS TURNED DOWN

Ottawa, Hamilton and Montreal Vote Solid Against the Argosmen

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 12.—Refused as to the number of teams which were embodied in the complaint the Argosmen's protest received definite shift at the meeting of the International Rugby Football Union which was held in the New Russell House last night, the Toronto team being defeated on a motion which they supported to have the game played by a type of four to two, only the Argosmen themselves voting with the proposition.

MANY CHANGES IN THE EAST

Interprovincial League Will Take in Five New Teams and Form Two Districts

(Special to Capital.)
Ottawa, Nov. 12th.—That a big change is probable in the make-up of the Interprovincial Amateur Hockey association was made public here last night when Mr. Williams Iverson, president of the Ottawa second hockey club, was delegated to represent that organization at the annual evening. The important matter which is to be dealt with is the division of the league into two sections, admitting the Ottawa Seconds to the present league, dropping the T. A. C. and forming a second league from the Grand-dere, Westmount, Shamrock and another club, the winners of the two divisions coming together in the final.

This would bring the clubs closer and save a great deal of the expense necessary for the Western trip. Another matter which is a big thorn in the side of the association of the Toronto club, is the fact that they defaulted a game to the Montreal Victorias last winter and also the very apparent weakness of the Quebec City seven. It is understood that Cliffides favor the above scheme while the Ottawa seconds if admitted would also support Cliffides sent Mr. Andy Sutherland to represent them.

BASKETBALL
AT THE Y.M.C.A.

Dormitory Team Defeats Dingles in Extra Time While Juniors Win from Senior Gym

The opening game in the Senior Basketball League at the Y. M. C. A. last evening furnished a crackling contest between Dingles' team and the Dormitories ("Dooms"). At half time the residents were leading by 14 to 9. Dingles' braves improved as the game progressed and at full time the score was a tie, 18 all. It was decided to play two minutes extra time each way, and the Dormitories finally won out by 25 to 21.

The teams were:—Dormitories—Dingle, Britton, Tompkins, Callen and North.

Reference—Dingle, Grob.

As a curtain raiser to the senior game, a team of specially juniors took the senior gym class into camp by 41 to 23. The juniors were all over the floor and seemed to be able to score goals from every angle. Jimmy Hill and Burchard did most of the shooting while Engler also did well.

The teams were:—Senior Gym, class (23), Nicholson, Goodrich, Dancin, Seyches and McCormick.

Juniors, Engler, Burchard, White, Stanton, Hill and Fauri.

Reference, J. H. Grob.

SAVANNAH CUP RACE

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 12.—Over oiled roadways, black and smooth, two international four car races are being run today. One is 21,276.8 miles for the Savannah challenge trophy and $1000, and another at 109.3 miles for the Tiedeman cup and $1000.

Soon after day-break the stags began to fill with spectators. Long before the start of the races, state militia closed the course and proceeded to keep it clear, with orders to shoot if necessary. Six cars are starting in the Savannah Trophy race and eight in the Tiedeman Cup event.

NEW COW BOY CHAMP

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 12.—Bert Weir, of Monument, N. M., won the world's championship in the annual roping contest at Juarez, Mexico, yesterday, roping and tying five steers in a minute 21.45 seconds. Nat Vivian of Pecos, Texas, made the lowest single tie, this time being 23.45 seconds.

CALGARY NOT FOR SEMI-PRO.

Southern City Will Stick to Amateur Hockey for This Season at Least

As was expected, Calgary refused to have anything to do with the proposed Semi-Pro League. It was thought here that the class of hockey to be provided would be a little too fast for Calgary, so no surprise is occasioned as the Southern City's declaration to stick by the amateurs. Edmonton, too, will support the amateurs, but there is sufficient talent here to fill the ranks of a semi-pro team as well.

The Alberta interviewed Joe Moir, Dan McLeod and Doc Gibson, who are the Calgary hockey moguls, and all were very much against the proposition, though the rider was inserted that perhaps eastern players could be imported to make up a team. However, a semi-pro circuit should be obtained out of Edmonton, Strathcona, Saskatoon, Battleford, Moose Jaw and Regina.

OTTAWA MADE MONEY

Though $23,000 Was Paid Out for Players and Expenses, $800 Was Cleared on Hockey Season

(Special to Capital.)
Ottawa, Nov. 12.—After paying out $23,000 for hockey players and expenses last winter, the Ottawa Hockey Club was able to break $800 ahead on the season, according to the statement of the secretary, Mr. Martin Rosenbald at the annual meeting of the Ottawa Hockey Club which was held yesterday afternoon. The absence of President Darryl McEwen made it necessary to leave the election of officers over until next week but Messrs. Sarse Nigle and Charlie Irwin will represent the local seven at the National meeting in Montreal today.

Potter-Lee Debate

That Mr. Potter had not gone into the Trunk Line railway proposition fully and that he ought to go into it more thoroughly was what Mayor Lee said.

That the mayor's arguments were absurd and that the cost of the scheme was arrived at by inflating the prices estimated by the mayor at $700,000, in order to knock the scheme was Mr. Potter's opinion.

And so the discussion between the mayor and Mr. Potter over the Trunk Line railway difficulty went on at the meeting of the Edmonton Municipal Improvement league held in the Northwood Oddfellows hall, Thursday night.

Not a seat was to be had five minutes after the meeting had begun.

Mr. Griesbach opened the ball with a few remarks on the aims of the league. The people needed information he said. The government were not to blame, it was the machinery that was limited but the league was just for the purpose of doing this. In June the census will be taken he said, and the location of the members of Parliament arranged for and there is no reason that if the two cities were united why they should not have a member at Ottawa. That is one of the things the league is trying to do. The utilities will be under one management thereby reducing cost and the city will be the largest between Winnipeg and the coast.

This is just one of the planks in the platform. If the league puts a full ticket in the council as it can and will do, it can go to the members on the council once per month and ask for information as to what is being done to further the plans set forth and how far they are completed.

In conclusion, he said: "The newspapers have connected my name and that of the league in connection with domination for mayor. I wish to state once and for all that I will not run for mayor this year."

It was then put to the meeting as to how long should be allowed each of the speakers to explain their side of the railway scheme, and the decision was that they should be given half an hour each.

Potter Opens Fire.
Mr. Potter then began by saying that half an hour was quite insufficient to explain his scheme thoroughly but that he would do his best. Seven years ago he said the plan was first brought up and he had fought for it ever since. Four years ago he tried to interest the council and a committee of the Board of Trade decided that it should be taken to them. "We did so, but failed" said Mr. Potter, "and afterwards I ran for council with the railway scheme and almost my only plank and failed again."

The scheme is a simple one—the elimination of the Trunk lines making the street railway loop lines possible. All we need behind this scheme is public sentiment. People think that it is a huge proposition but I'm just going to show you now that it is not. It will open our streets and improve their appearance. Increase the value of the property between First and Sixteenth streets fifty per cent. and what is more the Hudson's Bay company will see that they can dispose of their property at good price when the value rises and will do so. They will see that they are going to be taxed to the limit and would sell out. It would condense and encourage close settlement.

If we are going to have a fine city we must have close settlement.

"Now my first proposition is to secure land to the north of the city and transfer the railway yards. Approach the C.N.R. and tell them that we will give them the land and move the tracks for them if they will open up the streets between First and Sixteenth. The G.T.P. are keen for a settlement. Why? Because when they get to Nanayo Avenue they are blocked, they are only allowed to put in switches to the south and to do so would cost them nearly a million of money. It would eliminate the delays to the street cars. The crossings are getting dangerous and the delay in traffic is something considerable.

"The freight terminals" said Mr. Potter, "are so owned by the city and operated by the city doing away with the smoke nuisance and ensuring speed." He then explained that he would have the railways enter the city from the north. The lines would run from Alberta Avenue parallel with First street to a Union Station situated between Jassella and Sutherland streets and across the road from the present depot.

The city should buy all this property down First street instead of loaning the money to build cheap street cars about 5 per cent. interest (laughter). The freight line should run further east than First street about Alberta Avenue and skirting the government reserve come to an end near Clark street where there were numerous facilities for the establishment of industries.

The city has been advertising for industrial sites said Mr. Potter. He should like Mr. Lee to tell us how many sites they have purchased or even how many offers they have had. He has criticised my scheme in the papers. Last spring he was in favor of my scheme. He pronounced that the council should look into it. Did he do it? No. He promised that he would lend me Mr. Boulton to give an opinion on the scheme. Did he do it? No. Now I can show you how to get industrial property without going up anyone's back lane. Look at the property where the incinerator is now. It is cheap and just the place for an industrial site. The mayor has said it would interfere with vested rights. I'll show you that it won't. He has no doubt about the matter. The council are not paid to think. They do nothing all the year until the election time is getting near and then they are all dithering over one another to get this ditch up here fixed.

"Right in here," pointing to the district between Nanayo and the government reserve the city paid $75,000 for right of way to give to the C.N.R. and there is more right of way than is needed. The city already has its own gas works. The tracks can be laid down to these yards and the property on Sutherland-Griesbach-Morris-Clark all around will become industrial sites and can be sold cheap at cost of manufacturers. Just in the same way the meat and tracks can be laid. The traffic will be north and south and that is how we want the street car lines.

"I can speak very well tonight as I have a severe cold," Mr. Potter went on. "You're doing well" a voice interrupted. Mr. Potter then went on to take a drink of water. "Soon I'll be like the Scotchman" he said, as the laughter that greeted his repeated inroads on the water jug, died down. He then gave his estimate of the cost which was less than $500,000.

Mayor Replies.
The mayor then got up to reply. (Continued on page 5)

"The clerk did not recover so far as to be capable of reprieve until Joe had uttered his own statement. Then, with a suddenness, he seized a hot potato from an open barrel and threw it at the man, who had paused to examine the landscape. The missile failed and, fortunately, after bestowing a slight, hurried look upon the clerk, followed his master.

"In the office the red-headed man sat waiting. Not so red-headed as of yore, however, was Mr. Sheehan, but grizzled and gray and, this morning, gray of face, too, as he sat, peering and anxious, while a fabled brow with a black silk handkerchief.

"Here's the devil and all to pay at last, Joe," he said meekly on the other's entrance. "This is the worst I ever knew, and I hate to say it, but I don't see pulling it off."

"I've got to, Mike."

"I hope on my soul there's a chance of it. I like the little man, Joe."

"So do I."

"I know you do, my boy. But here's this 'Tosin' fellow, the public sentiment, and if there ever was a fellow who on earth it's that same public sentiment."

"If it weren't for that," Joe said himself heavily in a chair—"there'd not be so much trouble. It's a clear enough case."

"But don't you see," interrupted Sheehan, "the 'Tosin' tried it and convinced him afterward? And that if things keep going the way they're started to do the great jury's bound to indict him and the trial jury to convict him? They wouldn't dare not to. What's more, they'll want to. And they'll run the trial, summer or no summer, and—"

"Well, I know."

"I'll tell you one thing," said the other, wiping his forehead with the black handkerchief, "and that's this, my boy: Last night's business has just about put the cap on the peach for me. I'm sick of it, and I'm tired of it. I'm ready to quit, sir."

Joe looked at him sharply. "Don't you think my old notion of what might be done could be done?"

"Sheehan laughed. "Where? You and me, Mike? How long has it been since we made money with 'em? I'll give you five hundred dollars, Mike, if you'll make the way you'd put it—if you altered the

"Mike?" said the sturdy, but he grew very red and looked to meet the other's eye. "Mike?"

"Yes, y' are!" cried Sheehan. "Yes, y' are! It's a thing y' ought to have had the nerve to say to yourself since a boy, but that's yer notion inside. Y're little better than a missionary. It took me a while, Mike, to understand what was driving y', but I do now. And y've got to fight y' about it, because we know y'd stand for us when we're in trouble and fight for us till we get square dead, as y'd say, to fight for y' because y'd

Wainwright

THE BUFFALO TOWN OF THE GOLDEN WEST

A Second Saskatoon

From the Wainwright Star, Sept. 22, 1910—

On the 4th of August last, the order was issued incorporating Wainwright as a town took effect, and another milestone in the brief but remarkable history of the place was reached.

The next stage will be incorporation as a city, and if the citizens work together in a spirit of unity and keep pushing their settlement, and reaching out after industries, it will not be many years before this step can be taken. Wainwright is situated in the heart of a very fertile district, and is a railway centre of importance. On the map there is no city nearer than Saskatoon and on the west Edmonton is the nearest centre of importance.

Why should Wainwright not become a second Saskatoon? A branch line is to be built from here, which will mean the concentration of more train crews here, and will make this a distributing centre for the villages that will spring up along the line. Already quite a few big concerns have made this a distributing point for a considerable territory.

From Saskatoon to Edmonton is 225 miles. In all this distance Wainwright leads the way in population, and there is no reason why it should not continue to lead. In fact, there is no reason why Wainwright should not be a second Saskatoon in population and business.

Think what this should mean to those who buy property now in Wainwright. Saskatoon in 1906 had a population of 10,000. Now it has 12,000. In 1909 Saskatoon was about six years old. Wainwright is only two years old, and has a population of 1,000, which is more than Saskatoon had at the end of its second year.

It is not unreasonable to expect that Wainwright, with practically every advantage that Saskatoon enjoys, and some that it does not, should in a few years have a population as large as Saskatoon has now.

A few years ago, could be bought in Saskatoon as cheaply as they can be bought in Wainwright today. These same lots in Saskatoon have multiplied in value several times. If Wainwright should become a second Saskatoon, those who buy lots there now, will make a profit of from 100 to 1,000 per cent on their investment in a few years.

Big Yields in Wainwright District

Eighty-five bushels of oats to the acre—27 to 37 bushels of wheat to the acre—these are some of the yields in the Wainwright District this year. J. H. Mills, who homesteaded the Southwest 1/4 Sec. 26, T9, R44, W6, recently threshed a field of oats which averaged 85 bushels to the acre. A field of wheat on the same farm averaged 27 bushels to the acre. A farmer named Adams, near Wainwright, had 20 acres that averaged 27 bushels of wheat to the acre. In view of the fact that in many sections of Western Canada the grain crops were exceptionally light this year, these yields prove the superiority of the Wainwright District. It is announced that wheat in this district this year has been better than in any other section of the province. This will bring to Wainwright the trade of a large and prosperous farming community which is now off to a good start.

Why These Lots Are Offered for Sale

The Townsite of Wainwright was laid out about two years ago by the Grand Trunk Pacific and lots were offered for sale. The railroad had selected Wainwright as one of its Division Headquarters and located there extensive improvements, including 11 miles of sidetrack, a 12-class terminal roundhouse, repair shops, and office buildings for division officials. The town was not extensively advertised, and the lots were sold for a small price to those who through a personal visit or through friends became convinced of the town's future. The G. T. P. retained a considerable amount of land adjoining the townsite on three sides in order to provide for the town's future growth. It has now for the first time planned a portion of this land—the portion immediately adjoining the original townsite on the northeast and just across the street from the new $18,000 public school. The lots in this subdivision are being offered at low prices, the object being to promote the growth of the town rather than to get the largest amount of money possible for the lots. What the market is to make room for the natural growth of the town in the direction in which it is logically going, attract people to Wainwright and to increase the freight and passenger traffic into and out of the town.

It has been the policy of the G. T. P. to sell its townsite property at a low price and give the people who have the advantage of the townsite and the people who buy these lots now will share in the growth of the town and the advance in realty values the purchases of lots two years ago while the prices were first laid out have shared in its growth up to this time. By purchasing lots from the Grand Trunk Pacific, you take no risk whatever. It is different from buying from irresponsible parties.

What Home Folks Think of Wainwright

Of the 80 odd employees of the Grand Trunk Pacific who make Wainwright their headquarters, one-half are owners of Wainwright real estate. Eight of them, including the station agent, one engineer, two firemen, a postal clerk and a foreman, have bought lots within the past few days, and expect to build on them next year.

Seventy per cent. of the citizens of Wainwright own their own homes. During 1910 upwards of 100 new buildings were erected at a total cost of upwards of $100,000, an average of $1,000 each. They included a number of residences costing from $2,000 to $3,000 each.

When home folks do not hesitate to invest their money in real estate and improvements, it is pretty safe for non-residents to make investments in that town. A live, growing town like Wainwright is the town in which to invest for big, quick profits.

Building for the Future

Confident that the population of the town will increase rapidly in the future as it has in the past, the people of Wainwright are building for the future, rather than for the present. The Town Council, in planning public improvements, keeps the future growth of the town constantly in view. Wainwright was the first town on the G. T. P. between Saskatoon and Edmonton to put down concrete sidewalks. It now has half a mile of concrete sidewalks in the business section. It is now just completing one of the finest and most expensive public school buildings in any of the new towns between Wainwright and Edmonton—a two-story, basement and attic brick building containing four class rooms, two music and chemical rooms, a teachers' room, and two large indoor playgrounds for the pupils, the whole costing $18,000. The school grounds occupy one entire block 388 1/2 x 500 feet.

A sidewalk has just been completed from the business section to the school at a cost of $1,500. The Town Council recently appropriated $2,000 for the construction of fire hydrants each 10 feet square and 15 feet deep, to be filled with water for fire protection. The Council is now planning to build a Town Hall and Fire Headquarters to cost $15,000 to $20,000. It is also planned to build a large rink for indoor ice skating and for hockey and curling matches.

Wainwright doesn't do anything by halves. The citizens believe in the town's future and in making provisions for it. Certainly the town's growth in the past and the influence back of it justify their faith in it.

Nearly a Thousand Buffalo Now at Wainwright

Recent additions to the herd of buffalo in the National Buffalo Park at Wainwright have brought the total number in the herd up to upwards of 950. Of these 150 are calves born in 1910. There are still about 50 head on the Palo Ranch in Montana, remnant of the herd purchased by the Dominion Government. They include 25 "outlying" bulls which it has been impossible so far to round up. Another roundup will be made in the near future, and as many of the remnant of the herd as possible will be captured and shipped to Wainwright. The remainder will be run down and killed for their heads and hides. A buffalo head, mounted, is valued at $500, and a good buffalo robe is valued at $100. A number of sportsmen, including Mayor Pawling and L. Foster of Wainwright, will go to Montana to participate in this last buffalo hunt on the continent. Each of the hunters will pay $20 for the privilege of assisting in running down the buffalo.

Howard Douglas, Government Commissioner of Parks, who superintended the removal of the buffalo from Montana to Wainwright, recently stated that Wainwright would continue to grow rapidly in population. The Dominion Government, he said, would advertise the town through its National Buffalo Park, which would attract many people to Wainwright.

How Money is Made in Town Lots

A couple of weeks ago we sold three lots in Wainwright to a Winnipeg barber for $200 each—one-tenth cash and the remainder in nine monthly payments without interest. Since then the Town Council has planned to build a $100,000 Town Hall on the same street, on the same corner, within a block of these lots. The building of this Town Hall will add at least 50 per cent. to the value of the three lots. It is safe to say that the owner will be able to realize a profit of 50 to 100 per cent on these lots before he has completed his payments on them. As he does not pay any interest on the deferred payments, and will not have to pay any taxes on the lots until 1912, it is easy to figure that he has made an exceptionally good investment. But if he had waited a few weeks he would have lost this opportunity for big profit, because if he had those lots for sale now he would not sell them at $200.

Every day counts in these growing Western Canada towns. New industries are being established, public improvements are being planned and something is happening every day that adds to the value of real estate. The time to buy is NOW—TODAY. Tomorrow the lot which you can buy today for $100 to $150 may be worth 50 to 100 per cent more. You cannot make a mistake by investing in Grand Trunk Pacific lots in Wainwright. They are in the section of the town which, because of its location, will be most popular. They are high and level, overlooking the business section and the railroad yards, and convenient to schools and churches, and within a few minutes' walk of the business centre. Sidewalks have been constructed and streets graded right up to the subdivisions. Wainwright is one of the leading Division Points on the Main Line of the Grand Trunk Pacific; has the National Buffalo Park, has immediately tributary to it one of the richest farming districts in the Dominion and is already a wholesale distributing centre of importance. It is bound to continue to be the leading town between Saskatoon and Edmonton. As it grows in population real estate values will advance. Now is the time, and Wainwright is the place to invest for big, quick profits.
